Greening Our Classrooms - A Documentary: $1,000

Greening Our Classrooms will be a documentary series that will be developed by students to highlight environment-friendly practices and demonstrate how schools can take advantage of the procedures. Students will form teams to report about green projects funded by Federal stimulus money, suggestions from the Sustainability Committee and other innovations. Each team will write a script, film and edit a six-minute segment. Greening Our Classrooms is an opportunity for students to apply science knowledge with communication abilities and broadcast experience, telling an informative story.

BEF Community Awards: $3,200

2008-2009

Environmental Systems Action Project: $1,000

The primary objective of the project is for students to learn environmental science in a hands-on way with real world learning experiences. Students will research, document and organize projects such as the study of solar cell/wind turbines on campus and rainwater recapture system for field watering.

BEF Community Awards: $3,475

(Awarded to activity groups that assist with the annual BEF Phone campaign)

2007-2008

Book Talks with Pod-Casting: $539

Sponsor – Verizon Foundation

The project is designed to address the needs of the struggling reader. Students will create a “book talk” pod-cast in which they share their self-selected independent reading books with others in their class. Struggling readers will become empowered and have fun creating a pod-cast, enabling them to feel successful and motivated about reading and writing.

BEF After-the-Bell Student Success Award: $1,000

Funds to assist students with participation fees, helping to ensure that all students will have the opportunity to participate in activities such as sports, band, drama, choir and leadership clubs.

BEF Community Awards: $2,950

(Awarded to activity groups that assist with the annual BEF Phone campaign)
